

Curriculum

Clark County School District
Las Vegas, Nevada

Dr. Linda Young, Clark County School District's Equity and Diversity Department, Judy Steele, President and CPO of The Public Education Foundation, and Sandy Dixon, Nassiri Music Curriculum Liaison, introduced the LSNC Curriculum to representatives from the district schools at the Texas Station. The representatives were told that the learning format for the curriculum will be grounded in the principles of Authentic Instruction and researched based best practices within educational methodology. The program will address diversity education and enrich the conceptualization of issues of acceptance, tolerance, and appreciation of other cultures and races. It will help youth develop positive attitudes toward their own capabilities, teaching them to celebrate who they are and what they are capable of accomplishing..

Dr. Linda Young welcomes the multicultural representatives to the Equity and Diversity Department meeting at the Texas Station.

Information on the Equity & Diversity programs that will be available during the 2008-2009 school year was given to the district representatives.

Sandy Dixon discusses the Love Sees No Color Curriculum with interested teachers.